(13) I don't see any objection to Dy Commrs & Heads of Depts being empowered to grant permission to utilize Dasara & Xmas holidays. The Dy Commrs are primarily responsible for the due conduct of work in their districts in every department & they may be trusted to see that they exercise this power without inconvenience to public work & without incurring any additional cost. The order of 1909 was issued with regard to the special circumstances of that year when owing to the preparations for census, it was very necessary to prevent absence of Offrs even for short periods during their charge. It may be pointed out that the necessity for these casual leave is usually noticed, if they are permitted to avail themselves of the leave. There is therefore no necessity to request previous sanction of the Govt. in each such case unless owing to unusual conditions in other cases it is necessary to discourage such applications. It is doubtful whether Art 471 could apply to such a case as granting permission to utilize holidays is not equivalent to granting leave. Prior to the order of 1909 such permission was given without reference to Govt. except in the case of Commrs. & other higher officers the permission granted by the Dep^y Com^r of Chittagong to Mir Abdul Hakim. This Encl. of three sheets, the Govt. is unable to accede to the request contained therein.

(15) As observed by the Encl. Com^r. there is no definite ruling of Govt. on the subject. The Dep^y Com^rs are primarily responsible for the administration of their Districts including all Govt. Excise & Forest Revenue and they are empowered to grant casual leave to their assistants [illegible] to the extent allowable under the Rules. I think that they may be safely entrusted with the power of permitting their officers — Assistant Com^rs of all Departments — to avail themselves of the Durga Puja and Christmas holidays, at their discretion. The Dep^y Com^rs may be trusted to exercise this power, having regard to the interests of their work and the public.

(26) There are at present no standing rules regulating the grant of permission by Deputy Commissioners to the Assistant Commissioners and other officers under them to avail themselves of long holidays like Christma and Dasara. In connection with the permission given by the Deputy Commissioner of Chitaldrug to Mr. Abdul Hakim, the District Excise Officer of his District, to avail himself of the Dasara Holidays in October 1912, the question was raised by the Excise Commissioner as to how far the Deputy Commissioner was competent to grant such permission. The question was considered in Council and it was resolved that Deputy Commissioners may be authorized to grant permission to Assistant Commissioners of all Departments under them to avail themselves of Christmas and other holidays for a period not exceeding 5 days at a time, the fact being forthwith intimated to the Head of the Department concerned for his information.
